2	As a Plainfield resident and a 30+ year person in the aluminum and glass industry I would like to see simple envelope detail designs, value engineering on systems, shapes and glass. I see allot of waste with glazing systems that are designed and used incorrectly.	12/5/2015 8:33 AM

1	regarding the explanation of the ballot selection - you need to put it in layman's language. I am used to reading legal documents, but this legal explanation explanation is confusing. I understand thee reason for voting for the Bond Issue and for the Operating Fund increase at the same time, can you put both items in the same ballot? It appears that you will have two ballots & thus could end up with a bulding and not increase in operating funds.	12/9/2015 3:19 PM
2	I am available for input at a free cost to help in anyway with aluminum and glass design.	12/5/2015 8:33 AM
3	i don't recall voting on raising my taxes for this. My taxes are high enough	12/4/2015 3:04 PM
4	This is a waste of taxpayer's money. My family uses the public library in Plainfield and we have never seen a packed house so size is not an issue. We have utilized almost all aspects of the library and it works just fine as is. Please be a good steward of our money by not making this horrible choice for our community by building a new library. In no way will this benefit a majority of our community by spending for a new library. This is a pet project and those in charge of this should be ashamed of themselves for trying to "beat the Jones". As with most public libraries, the statistics of the communities population and the usage per month by the individual residents is so small. After having lived and purchased homes in 5 states, this area is the worst at being good stewards of taxpayers money. I hope this project gets shot down for everyone's sake. It's a huge investment for a small fraction of residents. The trustees should be ashamed of themselves.	12/4/2015 9:45 AM
